

Walk in to a wow wardrobe

Twelve ways to design a personal dressing room that does not compromise on function, comfort and aesthetics

PUBLISHED: AUG 31, 2019, 5:00 AM SGT

Karine Monie

Walk-in wardrobes have become a sought-after addition to the home, partly because they help to turn the hassle of getting ready in the morning into a pleasant experience.

So, how do you design a personal dressing room that does not compromise on function, comfort and aesthetics?

The initial step is to ask if you want the wardrobe open or closed, says Ms Susan Knof, founder of London-based design company Knof Design.

9. SHOW OFF YOUR CLOTHES AND SHOES

9. SHOW OFF YOUR CLOTHES AND SHOES. PHOTO: MUSEUM ID, GANNA DESIGN, NEWSAM CONSTRUCTION AND CATLIN STOTHERS DESIGN, LIM + LU, DAWSON DESIGN GROUP, SFA DESIGN, HAO DESIGN, KNOF DESIGN, SC EDITION, AUDAX, THE HOXTON, PARIS, BY HUMBERT & POYET, KELLY HOPPEN INTERIORS

In Paris, SC Edition (by Stephanie Coutas) designed this sumptuous closet structure with white ebony shelves and drawers in a high glossy finish, paired with gold rods in polished brass.

The Eclat wallpaper by Eltiss, bespoke mirrors and custom carpet designed by SC Edition in collaboration with bespoke rug maker Ferreira de Sa help to create a bright and glamorous walk-in wardrobe where every piece of clothing, bag and pair of shoes is elegantly on display.

A version of this article appeared in the print edition of The Straits Times on August 31, 2019, with the headline 'Walk in to a wow wardrobe' Print Edition | Subscribe